PRESIDENT'S REPORT

We were invited to hold our Committee meeting on Saturday 7th of March Dave and Sonnyia Maddick's 'Muffets Plum' property at Seymour. We had a number of attendees at the meeting and not only did Dave and Sonnyia supply the excellent weather, but also exceeded our expectations with the BBQ, salads and desserts!

Thank you Dave and Sonnyia taking time out of your busy life to provide us with an enjoyable day!

On Saturday 21 March, our Secretary and I attended the Welcome home parade for OPERATION SLIPPER that was held at the Shrine of Remembrance. The Vietnam Vets and the Association had our banners displayed on the side, along the route of the parade in support of the diggers. The banners were of interest to some supporters of the march as we were asked if photos could be taken of the banner together with members of the public taking selfies (with the banner in the background).

On Monday 23 March we supported Alkira Secondary College with their Year 9 WW1 history research project. We had volunteers attend to help us with this project. Thank you to those who dedicated their time (including the one retired Officer who experienced some difficulty in navigating his way to the School, but eventually got there in time ☺); and it looks like we will be asked to return later this year to do the same for another group of students.

Sunday the 29th of March was our RAEME ANZAC Day Service at the Shrine. At 11 am we were taken on a tour in a number of small groups. I highly recommend that our members visit the Shrine if you have not done so in recent months as there has been significant improvements made and is well worth a visit or two! Our Service commenced at noon in the Sanctuary. We had a Shrine Life Governor, Mr. Peter Whitelaw and Shrine Governor MAJ Maggie More attended our ceremony on behalf of the Shrine. It is always comforting to see warm and friendly faces welcoming us at the Shrine.

We had approximately 50 people attend the service in the Sanctuary of which 30 attended the lunch. After the service at the RAEME tree, the Craftsman of the Year perpetual trophy was presented to CFN Matt Guarino. Matt was proud to accept the trophy, having a number of family members witness the presentation.

In the meantime, pull out your woollies in preparation for Winter!

Warm Regards to all,

Mike Newbond
President

*The very first issue of the "RAEME Craftsman" was No. 1 Vol. 1, of December 1978.
The Editor was (then) Major (later Lieutenant-Colonel) John Scully*

John was a 12th Intake Army Apprentice Fitter & Turner, and is a member of the RAEME Association (Vic).

John's Editorial and photo for that first issue is reproduced below, and his comments are as relevant now as they were 36 years ago.

The Royal Corps of Australian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers is spread, in large and small parcels, throughout the Army. It can be very easy for the smaller isolated elements to lose contact with the many and varied activities of the Corps.

The Craftsman is aimed at helping to limit any loss of contact by publishing information of interest to all Corps members.

The continued production of what is essentially a house magazine, depends very much on the amount of support given by house members. We need your constructive criticism, moral support and your editorial contribution.

The content of this, our first issue, was prepared from a comprehensive range of material obtained from a broad spectrum of Corps members. You will see it covers personalities, history, technical matters and some policy aspects. To those who were subjected to my exhortations, I apologise, but I am sure that the result justifies your efforts.

We are all aware of the wide range of technical skills in the Corps. The Craftsman is one means of spreading knowledge of these skills and yet it can entertain readers with examples of those hidden attributes. Some of these are unveiled in this issue. I look forward to many interesting and entertaining issues of the RAEME Craftsman.

CORPS HISTORY PROJECT PROGRESS REPORT

I advised recently on the RAEME National Website, and in the last edition of the RAEME Association Queensland 'Spanner News' for 2014, that the final manuscript for the CHP book was with the publishers, and a number of our team were collaboratively completing the final editing process. I am happy to report the book was provided to the printers shortly thereafter.

As of 2 Apr 15, I have now been advised that two pallet loads of books have been despatched from China to Australia – the expected delivery date at the HOC Cell Bandiana is now around 30 Apr 15. Given this firm time-line, I have recommended to the HOC, BRIG Andrew Mathewson that the project team will continue with the on-line sales process over the next few months, and subsequently encourage our community to continue purchasing the book on-line; and for his team to plan for the commencement of book distribution soon after the books are available at Bandiana/Bonegilla, in early May 2015.

Our other good news is that BRIG Mathewson, has negotiated, with assistance from COL Tom Reynolds the COL COMDT – NSW/ACT, for the national book launch to occur on 15 Jul 15 at the Australian War Memorial (AWM) in Canberra.

This launch will include a number of activities, including the changing of the guard, a 'Last Post Ceremony', to celebrate the life of A RAEME soldier who died on active service, and a wreath-laying.

I encourage you all to continue monitoring the new RAEME National Association Website and RAEME Face book. <http://www.raeme.org.au/> . If you wish to place an order, please go to the "Shop" tab on the website and follow the prompts.

Burial Plans

A man and woman were married for many years. Whenever there was a confrontation, yelling could be heard deep into the night.

The old man would shout, "When I die, I will dig my way up and out of the grave and come back and haunt you for the rest of your life!"

Neighbours feared him.

The old man liked the fact that he was feared. Then one evening, he died when he was 98. After the burial, her neighbours, concerned for her safety, asked, "Aren't you afraid that he may indeed be able to dig his way out of the grave and haunt you for the rest of your life?"

The wife said, " Let him dig. I had him buried upside down ... and I know he won't ask for directions."

EXERCISE FOR PEOPLE OVER 50

Begin by standing on a comfortable surface, where you have plenty of room at each side.

With a 2kg potato bag in each hand, extend your arms straight out from your sides and hold them there as long as you can.

Try to reach a full minute, and then relax.

Each day you'll find that you can hold this position for just a bit longer.

After a couple of weeks, move up to 5kg potato bags.

Then try 25kg potato bags and then eventually try to get to where you can lift a 50kg potato bag in each hand and hold your arms straight for more than a full minute. (I'm at this level.)

After you feel confident at that level, put a potato in each bag.

RAEME ACTIVITY IN VIET NAM

The Battle Of The Minefield: Dat Do to the Coast of the South China Sea.

One Field Squadron sappers were now set a challenge. The mine field was always under observation from enemy eyes. During the initial laying, some of the mines were sometimes relocated to supposed safe areas, causing casualties. The Vietnamese children were a concern even in the event of setting up harbour positions, as they were always in danger in the event of an attack. They were also a source of information to the enemy.

"Flint" beside the minefield August 1969. The mine killing roller designed by Capt. John Power and built by the RAEME Workshop is fitted to the back of the vehicle. The protective steel plates at the rear are clearly visible.

At 07:45 hrs on 17th July the two prepared APCs, "Flint" and "Steele" moved from Nui Dat to Dat Do. They entered the two breached points in the western fence 100 meters apart, at the southeastern corner of the mine field. A pre-fabricated 5 meter observation control tower was erected to count the number of explosions. The 1.2 meter platform was surrounded with sand bags as the local VC would frequently use it for target practice. During these situations the occupant could only count the mines discharged by sound rather than sight.

The carrier "Flint" with Sapper George "Irish" and Lt. Alan Townson ran up the 3 metre lane on the inside of the barbed wire fence, this was not mined, but crossed by trip wires attached to booby traps in the wire and mines in the field. Having triggered a number of explosions in this initial "thunder run", "Flint" reached the northern breach, turned left and exited the mine field. It then entered through and rolled the field in successive square rotations reducing the field size each lap. Of the interacted mines [Jumping Jack vertically].

1 in 4 failed to explode. "Fleet" suffered damage to the boom axle, which supported the tar filled tyres after 1200 hours of operation. Both the crews and vehicles were alternated. Crews were rested from the constant battering of explosions and the vehicles for repairs, due to damage from the common cause. The cupola hatches were closed with visibility restricted to the periscope lens. The border wires were the only guide for the driver to direct him through the field. The noise levels were extreme, with the helmets and torso flak jackets suffering contact inside the turrets. The only other assistance was from the radios controlling the operation, which were also loud. The APCs were being constantly battered, along with fear of an anti-tank mine or extra ordnance being added to the field or maybe an RPG.

On the 21st July Squadron OC Major Rex Rowe took his turn as crew commander in "Flint" and "Irish Hamil as driver they activated a group of mines causing a tremendous explosion which blew the track off. The carrier lifted up on one side and both occupants were temporarily knocked out. "Irish" said to Rex "Do you think we are in heaven?" Rex retorted with "Shut up and consider how we will get out of this situation."

It was twilight before Rex had the solution. The 1 Field RAEME fitter's vehicle came to the rescue. As night fell it reversed up to the disabled "Flint".

It lowered the rear hatch, with a fitter lying full length on it and removed the track pin releasing the damaged track. The fitter track then towed the carrier off the track out of the field on its road wheels.

By 25th July 1,000 mines had been initiated or exploded. The APC Mine – clearing method was deemed successful. A number of skeletal remains were found during the mine clearing, as early attempts to mine lift had been unsuccessful. The mines that were successfully lifted by the VC left water holes. During clearing Lt. John Hopman spotted VC among banana tree patch, but they conveniently disappeared within the scrub. Rex Rowe who was overhead in a Bell Sioux, instructed the fitter's vehicle to bring fire to bear. Craftsman John Stanford drove the vehicle to the patch but could not find a tunnel or trap door. There were other banana tree patches grown within the field which created perfect cover for their tunnels. Human foot prints were found leading into these patches.

The 3 millimeter rear mild steel plates were replaced with 12 millimeter mild steel plates. The floors of the Carriers were covered in sand bags similar to the fitter's vehicle.

On July 31st the official mine clearing re-started. The Operation was named Frangimus 1 and was to continue in the northern part of the field between Route 23 and Dat Do South till the 24th of August.

On the 27th of July a store of 28 M16 mines and 63 M26 grenades with M5 pressure switches located in a bunker within a cemetery, 30 meters from where the clearing trial had started confirmed that "Charlie" was still lifting in spite of the clearing. During low level aerial reconnaissance of the field in early August, Rex Rowe saw M16 mines lying horizontally on the ground and foot prints in the area substantiated that people had been disturbed mine lifting.

Work went on from daylight to dusk, similar to when the engineers built the dam within Nui Dat earlier in '69.

The race was on between us and them to remove the mines and associated grenades. It was made even more difficult as the VC could constantly observe what was taking place. Careful planning was essential. When the vehicles returned to Nui Dat at night the RAEME workshop fitters, welders and machinists worked through the night to have the vehicles and equipment ready to return at first light.

Before operation Frangemus 2 an NDP near the field was established with an earthen wall pushed up to provide protection, as Nui Dat was too far from Dat Do. The would contain a Centurion tank, a bulldozer, the RAEME Workshop Contingent with recovery vehicle, combat Engineers [Tunnel Rats], Plant Operators ["Planties"] and Mine Sweeping Crews. There were M60 gun positions and standing patrols

1 Field had a previous NDP at the eastern end of Dat Do, when the campaign was to build defensive bunkers around Dat Do. After two bunkers were built this project was abandoned, due to the constant danger, of the replanted mines and attacks by the VC during this operation even though the "Horseshoe" [Manned by Australian forces] overlooked that area.

Frangemus 2 started in August and completed September 3rd. Counting the numbers of mines was still proving difficult. At times they appeared like a squirting fountain. A ten percent margin of error was allowed. The uneven surface, along with thick vegetation, forced the boom to bounce up off the ground and remain airborne, which caused accuracy problems. 15,872 mines had been originally laid around the southern Section of Dat Do. The count for that area was 6146 or 38 % of the mines initiated.

One problem Carriers suffered was when the mines jumped they would frequently get caught in the rear mild steel plate support structure. The frame work and the 12 millimeter thick mild steel plate was discarded and replaced with 20 millimeter thick mild steel plate was bolted directly to the carrier hull.

WW1 Wagon in AWM

Recently when I visited the Australian War Memorial, prior to the official opening of the new $30M display for the anniversary of World War One, I walked into the second gallery of the display and on the left hand wall

Is a piece of RAEME history.

As a corporal at Singleton Workshop Platoon in the 2nd Military District, the workshop, as a entire team rebuilt a WW1 Wagon GS, manufactured by Zucchini Brother Engineering of Maitland.

This wagon has many hours of labour and love poured into it with a few cold gold stubbies.

On the right side of the wagon's lower front corner is the manufacturers plate from which the workshop took it trade name, A Star of David with the three letters, Z, B, E.

Being a proud member of the workshop and RAEME, my heart and spirit are so proud of seeing such a fantastic and magnificent piece of Australian Military history on display for all Australians to view.

Could you please disseminate this information to widest please and ask all RAEME members to just look and admire such an engineering icon for the Corp and the Spirit of ANZAC.

With Pride In My Heart.
